

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A game machine which can be connected with a plurality of wireless controllers is proposed. A game machine according to 5 the present invention holds identification information of wireless terminal equipment in the periphery as a list. The list may be a blacklist specifying equipment not to be connected or, on the contrary, may be a call candidate list specifying equipment to be connected. By using such a list,
10 the establishment of connection with a plurality of wireless controllers can be realized within a short period of time.

BEST AVAILABLE COPY